

Recent New Books

from Gospel Publishers ❧ September 2020

New Books

White Horse to Bucharest

Written by Vila Gingerich. He who has not seen Bucharest, nor ridden upon a white horse, knows not what is beautiful in this world. — Romanian Proverb.

When Christian Service International sent them to Romania as humanitarian workers, Lee and Vila Gingerich expected a positive experience, but they never guessed how much Romania would teach them. Through this collection of over seventy short stories, let Romania steal your heart like it did theirs as those lessons are shared with the reader. Paperback; 263 pages; published by Vila Gingerich. $13.99. Item 14954.

Lessons from the Christian Mission Voice

Compiled by Robert J. Klassen. The Christian Mission Voice began publication in February 1966 to report on the progress of mission efforts at home and abroad. This book contains a distillation of editorials and articles from The Christian Mission Voice. Couples who are considering mission service or who have served will find it instructive. Paperback; 308 pages; published by Gospel Publishers. $13.95. Item 14953.

New Cookbook

A Dash of Spice

A collection of recipes by the Banach family. Glenn Banach grew up in Massachusetts and is of Polish and Italian descent, his wife Joyce is from a traditional Mennonite family. Living in Nigeria as missionaries and in Dodge City, Kansas, further diversified their food culture, and this variety is shared here for all to enjoy. Published by the Banach family. Hardcover, 3-ring binder; 604 pages. $22.50. Item 14941.

