

November Book News

November 2018

Gospel Publishers, PO Box 230, 100 S Ave. C,
Moundridge, KS 67107. Ph. 620-345-2532; Fax 2582
Email: orders@gospelpublishers.com

New Books

As Is

Written by Larissa Koehn. The Bible says, “For no man ever yet hated himself” (Eph. 5:29). Still, many of us are convinced that there is much about ourselves to dislike. In As Is, Larissa Koehn shares her journey of accepting herself as God made her. In this down-to-earth book, she explores three facets of life we all face:

The Ugly—the lies I tell myself: I’m a failure as a mother; I’m not good.

The Real—I get impatient with my children; I’m not as good as I wish I would be.

The Beautiful—God loves me with my imperfections; God gave these children to me because He knew I needed them and they needed me; God made me just like He wanted me.

Paperback; 117 pages. $11.95. ITEM NO. 14609.

Waiting on God

A collection of 105 heartfelt poems by Sierra Hrapstead. “Writing these poems and making this book has been a journey of faith. Many of these poems have been inspired while waiting on God.”

*As the tiny brooklet becomes a flowing stream,
Then grows into a river and flows into the sea...
So my inner faith begins, 'tis like a brooklet small.
It grows and strengthens as I trust that God is over all.*

Included are poems on various topics: Christian life, comfort, faith, and prayer, and also poems for special occasions, such as Christmas, friendship, graduation and Jesus’s death. Paperback with coil binding; 108 pages. $10.50. ITEM NO. 14610

New Cookbook

Smith's Culinary Classics

Compiled by Monica Martin. Collected recipes from the Howard and Iris Smith family. More than 500 recipes in a coil-bound book. 382 pages. $25.00. ITEM NO. 14608